

DISABILITY, CHRONIC ILLNESSES AND CLIMATE

Exploring the consequences of climate change, the consequences of those consequences, and the impacts on our health

This document is part of broader body of work and came from series of discussions and conversations that have taken place online and in person, using mouth words, pictures, text and stories. This work isn't complete and is ongoing, it is a summary of some of our shared stories and ideas. Yarned and created during 2023 and 2024 with community members and members of CJU with direct lived experience of disability, poverty and chronic illness.
